

CONTENTS

- Sun B., Zhang X., Liu Y. & Bernor R.L. – Sivalhippus ptychodus and Sivalhippus platyodus (Perissodactyla, Mammalia) from the late Miocene of China
- Renesto S. & Saller F. – Evidences for a semi aquatic life style in the triassic diapsid reptile Tanystropheus
- Montagna M., Strada L., Dioli P. & Tintori A. – The Middle triassic lagerstätte of Monte san giorgio reveals the oldest lace bugs (Hemiptera: tingidae): Archetingis ladinica gen. n. sp. n.
- Schwarzhans W.W., Huddleston R.W. & Takeuchi G.T. – A Late Santonian fish-fauna from the eutaw formation of alabama reconstructed from otoliths
- Benedetti A., Marino M. & Pichezzi M.R. – Paleocene to lower eocene larger foraminiferal assemblages from Central italy: new remarks on biostratigraphy
- Basso D. & Granier B. – Johnson & Kaska 1965 fossil coralline algae from guatemala (revision of the Jesse Harlan Johnson Collection, Part 4)
- Garzarella A. & Raffi I. – Taxonomy and evolutionary relationships within the calca-reous nannofossil genus Ericsonia in the upper Paleocene
- Goldin P. & Radović P. – A Middle Miocene baleen whale from Bele vode in Belgrade, Serbia
- Xu H.P., Cao C.Q., Yuan D.X., Zhang Y.C. & Shen S.Z. – Lopingian (late Permian) brachiopod faunas from the Quburga formation at tulong and Kujianla in the Mt. Everest area of southern Tibet, China
- Pirkenseer C., Rauber G. & Roussé S. – A revised Palaeogene lithostratigraphic framework for the northern swiss Jura and the southern Upper Rhine graben and its relationship to the north alpine foreland Basin